

Accounting Master Tax Forms and eFiling

MACC's interface to Aatrix simplifies your company's tax process by handling many important tasks directly within Accounting Master. The interface saves time and reduces work effort by eliminating the need to export any data outside of Accounting Master to create the tax forms your company needs each year.

Tax forms printed from Accounting Master

Tax forms utilized by telecommunication companies, such as W-2, W-3, 941, and 940 are just a sampling of the available options with Accounting Master's Tax Forms and eFiling. The program guides users to create each form using a convenient step-by-step process. Data is processed and available for editing, printing and eFiling.

1099 and 1096 creation

Accounting Master's Tax Forms and eFiling also allows users to create INT, MISC, PATR, DIV, and/or 1099-R documents plus the associated 1096 form, from data within Accounting Master. Prior to the creation of any tax forms, information retrieved from the Accounting Master database is reviewed and can be edited if needed. Once the forms are ready to be printed, the system has a variety of programmed form styles from which users can choose.

State forms are also available

Each of the 50 states is represented in the state form selection options. Forms include income, unemployment, W2, 1099, and those for new hires.

Automatic updates

Tax forms are constantly changing, but Accounting Master and Aatrix will stay up to date on the latest requirements. An automatic update

Key Benefits

□ Save time and work effort

Most common federal forms and many state forms can be printed within Accounting Master

□ Filing can be handled electronically

Using the Aatrix interface gives companies access to a convenient web application for electronic filing of tax forms

□ Current forms are always available

The tax forms found in Accounting Master are always the most current versions so you know your filings are up-to-date.

process allows you to control when the updates are applied.

Web-based tools

In addition to the numerous tax forms in Accounting Master and the convenient printing application, MACC's utilization of the Aatrix Interface also offers access to Aatrix's eFile Center. The application allows users to e-file federal and state documents. The data in this electronic filing service comes directly from Accounting Master to ensure that it is always up-to-date.

Learn more about Tax Forms and eFiling

For more information on the benefits of using Accounting Master's Tax Forms and eFiling feature, contact your National Sales Representative or Client Relations Manager.